Professional career

Welcome

I am dedicated to provide taxpayers with a comprehensive range of tax- and accounting-related services such as preparation of tax returns and financial statements, as well as tax advice and tax planning in different matters. Professional assistance and/or representation in dealing with tax authorities complete the scope of my services.

My services are directed toward individuals, employees, self-employed and freelancers, small businesses, and larger companies with tax inquiries and/or accounting issues.

Personal attention accompanied with an advice tailored to fit each individual client's present and future needs are my priority.

One can benefit from my long professional experience as well as my regular training, which allows me keeping up with continuous changes and modifications in the German tax law.

Charges for my services are transparent and reasonable.

I provide services in German and English language.

I am looking forward to see you in my tax adviser office in Bad Soden near Frankfurt.
